have a bunch of these and was wondering what kind of solenoid they were and what their purpose was. We threw these into the dumpster on a supplier I was doing work for, so I want to know their function. edit: These are the rubber stoppers that fit inside the connectors (the type with a hole in the bottom), you see in the picture. The rubber stoppers are labeled "MAGDA" and "MAGDA" A: Looks like a center tapped flux lead, i.e. coil with 1 winding. The center tap is grounded, so no core,
