Welcome to the Followers Guide to MAC 2011, a comprehensive Guide to the new features and functionality of the new OS X Lion (10.7). It covers all versions of OS X Lion 10.7 including: 10.7 (Retina Displays), 10.7.1 and 10.7.1.1. How do I know when I'm running Lion? When you hear the following message "This Mac is running OS X Lion". It's Lion. Use this guide to get the most out of your new Mac. What is Lion? Lion is a brand new version of Mac OS X and this is the biggest update to the Mac OS X platform since Snow Leopard. It is also called OS X 10.7. Lion brings new features that make it easier and more efficient to use your Mac.

While the changes between Lion and Snow Leopard are mostly subtle, there are plenty of new features that make Lion Mac OS X a faster, more powerful, easier to use operating system. Take a look at the following video (below) to see what's new in Lion, and check out our following video for a full walkthrough of Lion. What's New? Home: The most obvious and major change in Lion is the addition of a new application called Home. The Home screen is an app launcher that displays the apps, documents, and other items that you use the most often, so you can quickly launch them. Universal Clipboard: Lion features a single clipboard which stores all the information you copy. No more copying and pasting! Universal Tabs: Safari 6 has gained a new feature called universal tabs which lets you view and switch between multiple pages from the same webpage.

Continuity: If you use two-finger gestures on the trackpad and a trackpad connected to a Mac with Lion, you can use the feature to move between windows on your Mac and a connected iPad, iPod touch or iPhone. This means you can easily move between the documents, email and other programs on your iPad while browsing the web on your Mac. Continuity is only available when you connect to a Mac with Lion. Multiple

Desktops: Lion adds multiple desktops and makes it easier than ever to switch between them. Dock: Like in Snow Leopard, there's a Dock at the bottom of the screen which shows apps that are running, and also a new menu that lets you quickly access applications

This plug-in is designed to achieve just the right effect in your Paint.net project: easily search and set macros to define commands to help you streamline your job. Get the most out of your program You can save macros, combine existing ones to make new ones, and edit those in a step-by-step manner to improve your productivity. And of course, this is just the beginning. You can use those macros to apply keyboard commands, filter a certain sequence of work to be performed, and apply customized masks to make the final image look more professional. The left hand side of the window displays a list of all available macros and allows you to toggle through them for a current project. Besides that, you can check the number of words in the existing macros, plus the total number of each category such as character, filter, and mask.

Compatibility with Paint.net

When a macro is created, you can choose to make the program compatible with all or just a certain category of Paint.net programs. This functionality is designed for Windows users with Paint.net installed in their machines.

Convenient appearance of templates

enough to just check the desired command once, but you need to do it for each subsequent macro. This is a very time consuming task. To make this a bit faster, you can view the template file for the selected command. Simply right-click the command in question, and choose the "Browse" option from the context menu. Then, you'll have the possibility to select from a list of existing templates or create a new one. As you can see, the number of existing templates and the number of words in each template increases at every new macro is created. Easy creation of new templates When the template is selected, you can customize the template name to suit your purposes. You can also set the font of text that will be used, as well as the font of the command's icon. Keyshortcuts Add macros to your project by making your desired key combinations available through the macro list. Simply right-click the desired entry, choose "Create Key Shortcut", and enter the desired number of characters to be used. Now, each key combination is placed in the Macro list, which you can check from the right side of the window. When you're satisfied with the content, choose the "Create" option to make the new shortcut active. The following video shows you how to use the ELLE MACRO Recorder to
